Homecoming To Have Banquet

Wartburg Trumpet

Volume 15 Waverly, Iowa, Saturday, September 24, 1949 Number 2

Homecoming festivities will again feature a formal banquet at St. Paul's parish house, as revealed late this week by H. C. Engelbrecht, director of public relations. Homecoming at Wartburg will extend this year from Oct. 14 to 16.

Question of whether to have a banquet at the parish house or a less formal buffet supper in the Knights gymnasium had arisen earlier this week and was voted upon by students at Wednesday's convocation.

Results of the election showed that 193 students favored the formal banquet and 181 voters expressed their desire for the more informal meal at the gymnasium. Chief advantage of the gymnasium meal would have been a larger capacity so that both visiting alumni and all Wartburg students would be able to attend.

Mr. Engelbrecht stated, however, that something special in the way of meal and entertainment will be planned for those students who are unable to obtain tickets to the banquet.

Imbrock Tells Program.

Homecoming program and speakers were also announced this week by Arnold Imbrock, junior and chairman of the Homecoming committee.

Festivities will open on Friday, Oct. 14, with Kastle Kapers at 8 p. m., followed at 9:45 p. m. by a bonfire and pep rally on the north campus area. Registration of alumni will be open all day Saturday at both the Knights gymnasium and Luther hall.

Homecoming parade and snake dance will begin at 10:30 a. m. on Saturday, after which the noon alumni luncheon will be served at a place to be announced later. Feature attraction of the day will be the football encounter at 2 p.m. between the Knights and Westmar at the Waverly municipal field. Homecoming queen will be crowned between halves of the game.

All organizations planning to enter a float in the Homecoming parade have been asked to submit their entry to Arthur W. Meyer, Homecoming parade chairman, not later than Oct. 1.

Augst Is Speaker.

Speaker at the banquet to be held in St. Paul's parish house at 6:30 p. m. will be the Rev. Norbert A. Augst of Clara City, Minn. Mr. Augst was graduated from Wartburg in 1940 and was a four-letter winner for the Knights during his college career.

Sunday church services will be held at 8 and 10:45 a. m. at St. Paul's Lutheran church. The Rev. Walter Fritschel of Charles City will deliver the special Homecoming messages at these two services.

Re-dedication ceremonies for Grossmann hall, newly remodeled men's dormitory, will take place at 2 p.m. Following this, all dormitories on campus will observe open house until 5 p.m.

Final item on the Homecoming program is the queen's reception, which will be held in the lounge of Wartburg hall on Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 p. m.

Health Institute Here September 29

Wartburg will be host next Thursday, Sept. 29, to a one-day health institute sponsored by the State Department of Health, according to Dr. C. H. Becker, president of the college.

Big things are expected of the institute, which will be attended by all students at Wartburg, as well as representatives from the high schools and communities of surrounding areas. Wartburg students will be excused from classes and required to attend the institute as part of the complete educational program planned this year.

Sessions will be held in the Knights gymnasium from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Morning program will be opened by Dr. Becker, after which a staff of six from the Iowa Department of Health will give lectures and conduct question periods on various aspects of health.

Dr. Murray First.

First discussion, "The Purpose of the Health Institute," will be led by Dr. Leonard C. Murray, director of public health education. Following this, Dr. O. E. Hoffman, director of dental hygiene, will present a lecture on "How Is Your Dental Health?"

"Nutrition and You" will be the discussion led by Mrs. Helen Lovell, nutritionist, after which Dr. M. E. Barnes of the department of hygiene will talk on "Communicable Disease Facts Everyone Should Know."

Last lecture to be delivered Thursday morning will be "Better Sanitation for Better Living," by R. B. McAllister, public health engineer from Decorah.

More After Lunch.

After the noon luncheon, the institute will open again at 1 p.m. with a lecture and discussion on "Mental Health," led by Dr. C. C. Graves, director of state mental institutions.

Dr. Murray, director of the institute, will close the afternoon session with the discussion of two more topics, "Social Hygiene Facts No One Should Overlook" and "A Glimpse at Your Iowa State Department of Health."

At the close of the discussion periods, Dr. Murray will also give a summary and conclusion of the day's meeting.

Bus Travel Planned For Luther Game

Busses will be on hand next Saturday night, Oct. 1, to transport students to Waterloo for the Luther game, according to word from the athletic department. No charge will be made for the trip, as the contest is scheduled as a home game.

Students will be admitted on their activity tickets at a special gate at the West High stadium.

Those wanting transportation on busses must sign a paper on the bulletin board of Luther hall before Wednesday. The busses will leave between 6:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. Saturday and will return immediately after the game.

Similar arrangements will be made to carry loyal followers of the Knights to Oelwein, Nov. 3, for the Upper Iowa game.

Hieber Recital Sunday At Four

Dr. Robert Hieber of the college music department will present an organ recital tomorrow, Sunday, at 4 p.m. in St. Paul's Lutheran church. The program will consist of both classical and modern organ selections.

First on the list for tomorrow are Bach's "Concerto in A Minor" and Cesar Franck's "Chorale in B Minor." Bach and Franck are considered to be the two greatest composers of organ music. These will be followed by more modern pieces, including the scherzo movement from Vierne's "Symphony No. 2," "Harmonies Du Soir" by Karg-Elert and Andriessen's "Toccata."

Dr. Hieber's recital will be but the first of three such appearances by members of the Wartburg music faculty. Miss Wilma Schell, pianist, and Donald Miller, vocalist, will present recitals on subsequent Sundays.

Wignes Senior Senator; Utech Freshman Prexy

Stan Wignes, senior, and George Utech, David Geske, Anna Diers, Katherine Mueller, Chris Huber and Richard Siefkes, freshmen, emerged victorious in Thursday's class elections, according to results released by Judy Vogel, chairman of the Senate elections committee.

In the only upperclass election, Stan Wignes defeated George Roleder for the senior Senate vacancy caused by the death last summer of Francis Neumann.

Geske Vice-President.

Victorious in the freshman presidential election was George Utech, Le Mars, who won over Richard (Bud) Rowray of Waverly. David Geske, Holstein, was elected vice-president, defeating Ronald Wiethorn, Monona; Jim Unmacht, Dubuque, and Nancy Baumann, Wauwatosa, Wis.

For the office of secretary-treasurer, Anna Diers, Monticello, nosed out Carolyn (Toni) Siefkes of Waterloo by a slight margin. Other candidates were Carl Wenzler, Wauwatosa, Wis.; Patricia Gies, Loveland, Col.; Bonnie Balke, Crab Orchard, Neb., and Mary Amelung, Parkston, S. D.

Senators Elected.

Freshman Senators elected were Katherine Mueller, Rice Lake, Wis.; Chris Huber, Eureka, S. D., and Richard Siefkes, Charles City. They will serve on the activities and elections committees. Other candidates were Henry Schmidt, Jamestown, N. D.; Eunice Langholz, Loyal, Wis.; Ben Davis, San Francisco, Calif.; Gilbert Nass, Marion, Wis., and Charles Lutz, Renwick.

As the result of Thursday's elections, all Student Senate and class offices have now been filled.

Inselmann Speaker At Mission Meeting

The Rev. Rudolph Inselmann of Twin Lakes, Minn., will speak tomorrow, Sunday, before the newly organized Mission Fellowship group at 3 p. m. in the Little Theater. Topic of Mr. Inselmann's speech will be "Mission Opportunities in New Guinea."

Mr. Inselmann was a missionary for seven years in New Guinea and is the author of "Christ Conquers Cannibals" and "Justice in the Jungle."

Students who would like to join the Mission Fellowship group should come to the business meeting at 2 p. m. in the Little Theater, according to John Bowman, president.

Skit, Picnic, Charter At LSA Tomorrow

Devotional skit, picnic supper and presentation of the constitution will entertain persons who come to the first meeting of the Lutheran Student association tomorrow, Sunday, at 5 p.m. in the Little Theater.

"Games and fun for all are promised for students who attend the get-together," promised Harold Meyer, club president. "Old togs should be worn fully to enjoy the activities," he added.

Next week LSA is invited to a joint meeting with the LSA chapter of Iowa State Teachers college at the Cedar Falls Bible camp.

'Enrollment Decreases By One; Still Is Satisfactory'---Fritschel

"Enrollment at Wartburg this year stands at 572, compared to 573 students enrolled at the beginning of the first semester of last year," announced the Rev. W. C. Fritschel, college registrar.

"This is the first decline in enrollment since the school year of 1944-45, when the number of students dropped to a low of 176. However," added Mr. Fritschel, "in view of the decline in enrollment in colleges and universities all over the country, our present figure is more than satisfactory. Some of the large universities have reported a drop of close to ten per cent in the number of their students."

A breakdown of the grand total shows that the present student body is made up of 392 men and 180 women, the proportion being almost exactly the same as last year.

By classes, the figures show that the freshmen number 225, of which 137 are men and 88 women. The sophomores are 170 strong, with 110 men and 60 women. The junior class has 104 members and claims the most lopsided proportion between men and women, the figures being 90 to 14, while the seniors number 65, 53 men and 12 women. There are 8 special students enrolled at Wartburg, of which 2 are men and 8 are women.

A breakdown by states shows that Wartburg students come from 19 states and three foreign countries. Iowa, as is to be expected, claims the largest number of representatives on the campus, 277 of the 572 coming from the Hawkeye state. Next on the list are Wisconsin with 86, Minnesota with 49, Illinois with 42, Nebraska with 27, North Dakota with 24 and South Dakota with 20. These seven middle western states are home to almost ninety-two per cent of Wartburg's students.

To complete the picture, Colorado sends 10 students, Kansas 9, California 7, Ohio 4 and Idaho 3; Oklahoma, New York, Missouri and Washington each have two representatives on the campus, while Connecticut, Indiana and Maryland are last on the roll call with one each. Wartburg also claims one student each from Canada, Estonia and Switzerland.

Harms Suffers Polio

Raymond Harms, junior from Wilcox, Neb., was discovered to have poliomyelitis late Thursday evening and was taken Friday to the University hospital at Iowa City for treatment.

Seriousness of Harms' condition is not definitely known. He is the first Wartburg student to have contracted the disease this year.

'Chow' Call Brings Response

Almost as welcome as the cries of "Outfly!" last Thursday were the announcements that "chow" was being served. In the picture Matinda Weber, sophomore, is receiving her last eating utensil, a straw, from Clare Biegler, junior.

Plans Being Made For New Directory

Plans for the printing of a pocket-size campus directory were announced this week by Omar Bonderud, president of the Beta Delta chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalism fraternity.

Included in the directory will be sections listing students, faculty, staff, committees, class officers and extracurricular organizations.

To be sold for 25 cents a copy, the directory will appear about Oct. 7 as one of the campus projects of Alpha Phi Gamma. It will contain about fifty pages.

Call Fortress Meet

Fortress organizational meeting to plan next spring's year book will be held Monday evening at 8:30 p.m. in room 21 of Luther hall, as announced by Melvin Gleiter, editor.

New students wishing to join the Fortress staff are invited to attend, according to Gleiter.

Class Meetings Important

Next Monday evening the first regularly called class meetings will be held on campus. One of the questions the meetings will answer is "How many Wartburg students will be interested enough in their student government to attend?"

Until recent years class meetings on the campus of Wartburg college were a rather rare and spasmodic occurrence, and when meetings were held, the attendance at them was often a very meager percentage of the class membership. Students then did not seem to realize that the class was the primary division in student life at Wartburg and that it should serve a primary purpose in the administration of student government.

Actually, however, almost the entire student government setup under the new constitution adopted by the student body last year is geared to the divisions created by the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes. Classes elect their three Senators, the class president also becomes a Senator, and these Senators in turn make up our governing body and also form the core of all faculty-student and student committees on campus.

Because of the potentially powerful role which the class can play in student government at Wartburg, provision has been made in the constitution that each class must meet at least once every month throughout the regular school year.

Class meetings, as such, are not designed to carry on only business pertaining to the class itself, but also to treat on matters pertaining to the class as a primary section of the student body at Wartburg. Thus, class meetings are to be used by the presidents to report on matters concerning student government and to hear class opinion on important topics to be considered in Student Senate by the class representatives.

It is plain to see that the classes could become a very important organ in the administration of student government at Wartburg. Class meetings afford a much greater opportunity for free discussion than do mass student meetings. Much more can be accomplished along the line of determining student opinion in a class meeting, for the group will be smaller, discussion will be more widespread and frank and thus more definite and accurate readings of student opinion will be obtained.

Naturally, however, class meetings cannot accomplish these aims of student government if we do not attend them. Therefore, it is important that everyone go to his or her class meeting Monday evening so that student government on the campus of Wartburg college will be able to function as efficiently as possible.

Political Pageant By Claude Grelling

Complacency Is Crime

Just as the criminal always returns to the scene of his crime, so the political columnist always comes back to harp on his perennial pet peeve. It takes but the slightest provocation and off he goes on his favorite subject. I never claimed to be an exception to the rule, so here goes:

I suppose that complacency and political irresponsibility are pleasant ways of keeping away from too much worry. It is so easy just to relax and let other people solve their own problems. The "let-the-Europeans-straighten-out-their-own-mess" attitude is all too common among us. However, let us analyze that attitude for just a few moments.

Four years ago, the bloodiest war in history came to an end. We won that war at the price of innumerable lives, of endless rivers of blood, sweat and tears. Perhaps some of you lost a close friend or relative somewhere on the battlefields of Europe or Asia. Remember that, whoever he was, he died that you might live in peace and be a free agent in a free society!

Millions of young men and women gave their lives because they believed that they owed it to their country. We are part of that country, you and I. And just as they owed it to us, so we owe the safekeeping of our freedom to those who will come after us. We have grave duties not only as Americans but also as members of the human race. One of the greatest of these is a vital concern with what is going on around us, a sense of "world consciousness."

Let us keep in mind that if Pierre Marchand in Paris is a political refugee, that's our business, yours and mine. His freedom is our freedom. Let us defend it that we might not lose ours. In our day and age, world responsibility is a sacred duty, complacency a crime. Let us awake to our sense of human duty.

Weiblen Tackles Greek

By Bill Boyken

It seemed ironic to have to interview the TRUMPET's most lambastic critic for this week's feature. Nevertheless, a reporter stole into the room of Paul Weiblen, world scholar and traveler, late one night last week, seated himself comfortably in the chair opposite his desk and gently asked him a few questions.

"How are you, Paul?" he asked rather timidly, hoping that Weiblen wouldn't begin one of his scorching tirades as to the emptiness of the world and the vainness of contemporary life.

"Te phona," was the answer, as Weiblen concentrated deeply on the Greek book before him while a swinging pendulum worked tediously back and forth above his head.

It's Not Funny.

"I know it's not funny," said the reporter, "but I've been sent here to get an interview from you."

"Tan phonan," answered Weiblen, and then reiterated his statement, by saying, "Heh phono, tas phonas."

Weiblen

It was all Greek to the reporter, so much Greek, in fact, that he almost gave up hope until Weiblen closed the book and at last met the reporter square in the eye. "The voice" of North hall settled down to answer a few questions.

Studies At Basel.

Weiblen is known by all juniors and seniors as the boy who went to Switzerland last year to study in the University of Basel. Thanks to Wednesday's convo announcement, Weiblen is also known as the person who is only a junior, not a senior, and thus isn't eligible for the position of senior Senator.

Going to Switzerland in September of 1948, Paul, or "Shorty," as his North hall buddies call him, finally returned to the States this year.

"I was tired of hitchhiking around Europe," explained Weiblen, "and hadn't succeeded in finding a rich widow who was willing to pay for a couple more years of study over there."

From September to March of last year, Weiblen attended classes conducted in the German language at the University of Basel, but during the six weeks' spring vacation he hitchhiked to Germany, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Luxembourg, Belgium and Holland.

Hitchhiking Good.

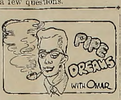
Asked about his luck, Weiblen reported that hitchhiking is very good in Sweden and Norway.

"You can even get a meal almost any place by waving an American flag."

Returning from this jaunt, Paul went to school again until July 15, but then took another thumb ride through Italy, Germany and Switzerland before coming back to the states last August.

Back at Wartburg this year, Weiblen reports that there is no place in the world like North hall.

"Of course," he said, "they don't toss in a maid with the $49.50 to make your bed and polish shoes as they did in Switzerland."



Nearly everyone has, in the course of a lifetime, the urge to turn to a secretary and dictate to various and sundry people on likewise various and sundry subjects. Unfortunately, most of us don't have secretaries, so that yearning to feel important remains but a burning coal in the depths of our personalities.

This week Pipe Dreams has that urge to send memos. With the editor's permission, here goes:

o O o

TO ALL FRESHMEN—If you live far enough away from Wartburg to ship your possessions and if you stay here long enough to gather considerable personal collections in the way of books, files and miscellaneous term papers, be careful.

Experience has taught this writer that freight agents take a special delight in placing "This Side Up" down, in dropping two-ton iron safes on locker trunks and in untying knots on ropes around packages of books.

P. S.—Don't ever send a file; more often than not you'll find the A's where the Z's used to be, and your notes on the 30 Years War will be mixed with those for your marriage and family course.

Oh, well, it is one way to integrate your knowledge.

o O o

TO JIM KELLER—In the future be more careful about recognizing your dates. Some Knightie will think you presumptuous when you pick her up just because she happens to come out of Wartburg hall.

o O o

TO THE LIBRARIAN—Would it be at all possible to lend some of those extra shelves in the back of the stacks to the fellows in Grossmann and North hall? It seems that this abundance of scholars, as well as Book-of-the-Month club members, gives Wartburg a shortage of bookcases.

o O o

TO CLARENCE BRUNINGA—Bottles are usually breakable, especially medical ones. Let's be more careful next time we take physical exams.

o O o

TO ALTON SCHWANDT—You really should have realized that Wartburgers take their traditions seriously, especially the one which makes them throw prisoners of love into the fish pond.

o O o

TO "ABIE" GUNDACKER—We missed your trumpet on Outfly morning. Or was Pipe Dreams still dreaming about that time?

Easy Pickings

from the staff

SOME UPPERCLASSMEN seem to have the idea that sidewalks were built only for freshmen, but why don't we all use them and give the grass a chance?

WHEN BOB DOTZAUER, junior, returned to the waiting room at the Rohlf Memorial clinic after taking his physical examination, someone asked him how long he had been inside.

"Well," was the answer, "I went inside at eight. Let's see, what time did I pass out?"

WARTBURG can be proud of the spirit shown by the freshmen on Outfly day. It's kinda hard to be cheerful in the wee hours of the morning.

THE NORTH HALL Choral and Marching society is readying itself for its debut on the campus under the able direction of George (Housemother) Gundacker. Its favorite vocal selection is "Bill Grogan's Goat." Drills and practices are held on North field and in the Ambassador studios.

REAR SEATS in convocation really do have their advantages—especially for faculty members. Consult the Rev. Dean (The Hair) Kilgust for details of the plan which he devised for quick exodus through the rear windows.

Wartburg Steamrolls Winona, 18-0

By Adam Meldinger

A rejuvenated Wartburg eleven put on a great show in its first home game of the season as the Knights overran the Winona State Teachers college Warriors 18-0 last night.

It was an entirely different ball club from the one that was beaten by LaCrosse last week as the Black and Orange outshone the Minnesotans in every department.

With Bud Rowray and Erv Hanus leading the ground attack, and Bobby Campbell slinging pigskins all over the lot, the Knights rang up 20 first downs for a total of 389 yards to 81 for the opponents.

Knights Control Ball.

Wartburg was the whole show, controlling the ball during most of the game. Winona could gain a mere eleven yards by rushing as the improved Wartburg line held like a stone wall.

The Warriors took to the air, but could not do much better as the revised Knight pass defense covered would-be pass receivers like blankets.

Hanus, leading ground gainer for the Knights, was injured early in the game, but managed to play three quarters, running up a total of 127 yards in 20 attempts for better than 6 yards per try.

Bud Rowray, star Waverly freshman, who played in the line last week, felt quite at home in the Knight backfield. He showed up amazingly well as he bulled his way through the Ped line time and again.

Mite Most Improved.

Perhaps the most improved player on the Knight squad was the Mighty Mite, Bobby Campbell. He looked like a veteran as he ran well, and passed even better.

Wartburg broke the scoring ice after the game was less than three minutes old when the Tama Express, "Fee" Hanus, broke through the left side of the Tutor line, raced for the sidelines, and galloped 34 yards for the score.

Knight's game with Simpson originally scheduled for Oct. 21, has been changed to Friday, Oct. 20, according to word received from the athletic department.

Two plays later, the Knights took over again on their own 27-yard line, marched all the way to the Winona four where the Warriors recovered a Knight fumble. On two more occassions the Knights covered almost the entire length of the field only to be stopped on the 12-yard stripe both times.

60 Yards Gives TD.

A sustained drive of 60 yards netted the second TD for the Nelsonmen in the third period when Hanus plunged over for the score.

Wartburg scored its final touchdown early in the fourth quarter via air mail when Campbell threw a 21-yard spiral down the middle to Rowray in the end zone.

Next Friday night, the Knights open conference competition when they meet the Luther Norsemen at West Waterloo stadium. The Black and Orange were upset 12-7 last year by the Vikings and will be gunning for revenge.

Indians Splurge, Skunk Knights

By Adam Meldinger

LaCrosse Teachers college combined a slippery backfield with a deadly passing attack to blank the Wartburg Knights 31-0 at LaCrosse last Saturday night.

Wartburg appeared quite helpless in the first half as the Indians scored four times. The two teams were almost equal in the yards gained rushing column, but the deciding factor was the passing attack as the Indians completed five of seven flips for 111 yards and three touchdowns.

Coach "Nellie" Nelson's charges had trouble getting started, and were hampered by penalties which always occurred when they hurt the most. Although Wartburg had 11 first downs to 7 for LaCrosse, the Knights failed to cash in.

Twice the Knights moved deep into scoring territory on long sustained drives only to bog down. The Orange and Black were down to the six-yard line once but lost the ball on a fumble. On another occasion they lost the ball on downs on the line.

Ray Meier and freshmen "Bud" Rowray and Joe Matous played stellar defensive ball with Rowray also doing some excellent punting. He booted one for 50 yards into coffin corner that went out on the LaCrosse one-yard marker.

Offensively, Paul Olson opened some fine holes from his tackle position while fullback Erv Hanus led the Knight ground attack with 61 yards in 15 tries. Lynn Brown, Knight halfback, carried the ball for 53 yards in 14 attempts.

"Ace" Loomis was the chief of the LaCrosse tribe, as the star fullback scored the game's first tally on a 17-yard gallop through the Wartburg line and clipped off 63 yards in eight tries.

Plans Made By W's To Pick Fall Queen

Plans to select a queen for the fall, winter and spring sports seasons were made at the "W" club meeting last Wednesday evening in the Knights gymnasium, according to Harold Wiltshire, president.

Queen for this fall will be presented between halves of the Luther-Wartburg football game at Waterloo next Saturday. Since the Homecoming queen is chosen from the junior and senior classes, this fall's sports queen will be either a freshman or a sophomore. In subsequent selections, however, a girl from any class is eligible.

Other business at the meeting was the election of the remainder of the "W" club executive committee. Eugene Bowdish, senior, was selected vice-president; Marshall Becker, senior, secretary; Ray Meier, senior, treasurer, and Waldo Platte, senior, publicity manager.

Frosh Help Fill Knight Ranks

Coach Melvin Nelson has been forced to call heavily this year upon several members of the freshman candidates in filling the ranks of the Knight gridders. Among those who have seen the most action and made good showings are these four frosh players—Joe Matous, Waterloo halfback; "Bud" Rowray, Waverly tackle and punter; Varland Koch, Sumner guard, and Jim Unmacht, Dubuque fullback.

From The Sidelines

By the Spectator

Practice sessions during the week saw the Knights drilling on pass defense in preparation for the contest with Winona Teachers. This is the final game before Coach Nelson's squad begins its conference competition against Luther at Waterloo on Oct. 1.

Appearnace of Paul Bruns on the practice field Wednesday evening promises a stronger backfield combination. Bruns, shifty Mason City back, will team well with Hanus to give the Knights the punch that they need. Last year Bruns topped the team in average yards per try with a neat 6.53 and was second only to Hanus in total yards gained.

Conference Glances.

It appears that the Iowa conference bit off more than it could chew when Dubuque met Iowa State last Saturdoy. The 1949 undefeated conference champs were handed a 64-0 shellacking by the Cyclones for the most lopsided victory the Big 7 school has had since 1914 when it swamped Cornell 69-0.

Hats off to Lloyd Koob for his courageous support of the team on and off the practice field. Koob, the Plainfield backfield ace, has refused to let the loss of his right leg in a summer accident stop him from keeping up with the team's progress.

Upper Iowa kept its record intact Saturday by squeezing past Macalester 13-12. Not since November, 1945, have "Doc" Dorman's Peacocks lost a home game.

Harold Wienke, Monona sophomore, reported for football this fall with the sole idea of learning the game. He did just that the hard way by breaking his ankle on his second day out, thus becoming the first serious accident casualty of the season.

Prediction Contest Explained.

In order to be eligible for the "From the Sidelines" football prediction contest, the entries must include a prediction of scores. This is necessary to settle any ties which may occur if only the winning team is picked. In case of a tie, the person with the closest scores will be the winner.

Outfly Proves Gala Day For Freshmen

By Bill Boyken

Tuesday's Outfly was a gala day for Wartburg freshmen.

Since this was their first contact with that fine old Wartburg tradition that occurs each fall and spring, most of the frosh were completely bewildered but nevertheless impressed with the bag full of tricks that were unfurled throughout the day.

Actually, however, the ceremonies began the night before. With perfect intuition as to when "O Day" would occur, the sophomore conditioners called out freshman boys Monday evening for a shoeshining party and close order drills on North field.

Lemke Leads Way.

With drill sergeant Lemke leading the way, freshman boys performed the intricate left step, right step, double-to-the-rear march in true rookie style. Stopping along the march several times, the frosh also serenaded upperclassman residents of the men's dormitories with fine renditions of the Wartburg loyalty song.

Freshman women, although not given quite the rigorous training that the men received, also practiced their art of shoeshining on Monday evening. Later in the night, upperclass women, fearful lest some had forgotten in all the excitement, ordered the freshmen to the lavatories on special toothbrushing detail.

Excitement in Morning.

But the real excitement was reserved for Outfly morning. Soon after the cuckoo had struck 5 a.m., Pandemonium broke loose on the Wartburg campus and all freshmen were turned from their sleep to face the ordeal of special Outfly initiation. To aid them in rubbing the sleep from their eyes, the sophomores graciously showered the recalcitrant freshmen on the steps of Old Main.

After a nourishing breakfast eaten by the frosh from the floor of the dining hall, freshmen led the way in the traditional snake dance down Bremer avenue. It would have been so simple for the frosh to have bought their Outfly wings while passing by Meyer's drug store, but due to some misunderstanding the sophomores forgot to tell them until all had run back to campus again.

So went the day—a gala day indeed for freshmen. The remarkable thing is that they were able to skip a whole day of classes while enjoying all the fun.

New Judicial Board Appointed by Schick

Members of this year's women's judicial board were announced this week by Mrs. Barbara Schick, dean of women.

Working with Mrs. Schick will be seven women who together will handle disciplinary problems among women at Wartburg.

Only two members from last year's board are back at Wartburg this year and these two, Bonnie Mae Schultz and Barbara Wuest, sophomores living in Wartburg hall, will continue to serve on the board this year.

Upperclass board members from the White House and Short house will be Lucille Baehmann, junior, and Sylvia Meyn, senior. Freshman member representing Wartburg hall is Virginia Wishek, while other freshman members are Marilyn Niemann, Annex I, and Allegra Rath, Annex III.

Roleder, Schiffler New MAC Officers

Edwin Roleder and Paula Schiffler, sophomores, are the newly elected vice-president and secretary of Music Appreciation club. Recently selected as advisers were Dr. Robert Hieber, assistant professor of music, and Donald L. Miller, voice instructor.

Herbert Richmann, senior and president of MAC, announced that future plans include at least one Campus Concert a month. The purpose is to bring Broadway hits and also semi-classical music to Wartburg students.

Music At Concert From 'South Pacific'

Selections from "South Pacific," current Rodgers and Hammerstein Broadway hit, will be the piece de resistance at tonight's first Campus Concert of the year. The concert will be presented at 7:30 p.m. in the lounge of Wartburg hall, as announced by Herbert Richmann, president of the Music Appreciation club.

Program will open with a classical piece, Wagner's overture to "Die Meistersinger," followed by Mozart's "Symphony No. 40." Next on the list are parts of Khatchaturian's impressionistic "Gayne" ballet suite, which includes such popular numbers as the famous "Sabre Dance."

Second part of the concert will be devoted entirely to "South Pacific." Stars of the musical are Ezio Pinza, tenor, and Mary Martin, soprano.
